Eritrean prisoners in a southern Sudan town Kuajok.

We have come across the information that there exist around 40 Eritrean prisoners in southern Sudan.

The Sources speaks of the existence of more than 40 Eritrean prisoners in a southern Sudan town Kuajok. Kuajok is a capital city of Warrap state, one of the 10 states of southern Sudan. The prisoners have been seen in the Warrap state under the supervision of guards from the prison.

It is believed that they are arrested for simply crossing the border into the south Sudan from north Sudan. It is said that they have been in prison for about 3 – 7 weeks now.

It is said that the authorities told them that they will send them back to Eritrea. We must act before the authorities realize the threat. Let's try to save these poor souls from being sent back to the dictatorial regime in Eritrea.

We will try to update you further as soon as get more information.
